

Make your wedding a reflection of the two of you!

Express your individual style with...

- save the date cards
- wedding invitations
- wedding programs
- candles
- favors
- glassware
- accessories
- thank you notes
- & more!

claire and lucas
august 15, 2009

please join us to celebrate our wedding on saturday, the fifteenth of august two thousand and nine at four o'clock in the afternoon

hope church 7477 145th street west
apple valley, minnesota

claire jocelyn haeger & lucas alexander matthews

the pleasure of your company is requested at the reception immediately following the ceremony
calhoun beach club
2925 dean parkway

Carlson Craft
One source, endless possibilities.

The wedding invitation ensemble:

A) Save the Date Card ~Save the date cards inform guests of your wedding date well in advance, allowing them to better plan for your event. Invitations should be sent out when other details of the wedding (such as location, time, etc.) are finalized.

B) Wedding Invitation ~The invitation informs guests of the date, time and location of your ceremony, and also sets the tone for the celebration. Mail all invitations six weeks before the wedding.

C) Wedding Announcement ~A wedding announcement is perfect for a small wedding ceremony, destination wedding or elopement to tell the great news of your marriage to family and friends that were not invited. Announcements should be mailed the day of your wedding.

D) Outer Envelope (not shown) ~The larger, gummed envelope is referred to as the outer envelope or mailing envelope. The recipient's name and address should be handwritten on the front with no abbreviations. The sender's return address should appear on the back flap.

E) Printed Outer Envelope ~Envelopes printed with your return address save addressing time and also ensure that undeliverable invitations will be returned to you.

F) Inner Envelope (not shown) ~The slightly smaller, ungummed envelope holds the invitation and enclosure cards. It is inserted into the outer envelope. The inner envelope should have only the recipient's title and surname on the front.

G) Lined Inner Envelope (not shown) ~Establish your wedding color theme with beautiful lined inner envelopes, available for a slight additional charge.

H) Envelope Seal ~Available in a variety of colors and designs, envelope seals add a finishing touch to your invitations, announcements and thank you notes.

I) Respond Card and Printed Envelope or Respond Postcard ~Respond cards provide an accurate guest count. Guests return the card in the accompanying printed envelope, indicating if they will attend. A stamp should be affixed to the envelope. The respond card and envelope are enclosed with your invitations. For budget-conscious brides, respond postcards are an economical option.

J) Reception Card ~Reception cards are enclosed with your invitations to announce the time and location of the wedding dinner, dance, brunch or other celebration.

K) At Home Card ~At home cards enclosed with your invitations to announce your new address and provide valuable information, such as the date you will be moving into your new home.

L) Map Card ~Printed map cards enclosed with your invitations provide guests with detailed directions to your ceremony and reception.

M) Pew Card ~Pew cards are included in the invitations of special family members and close friends. When presented to the ushers at the wedding, these cards ensure special reserved seating.

N) Thank You Note ~Elegant thank you notes with a handwritten message inside express your appreciation for the thoughtfulness of the gift givers. Printed notes are also available to acknowledge the receipt of gifts.

O) Note ~Ordered with your names or married monogram printed on the front, notes are perfect for sending words of thanks and other social correspondence. Before the wedding, notes printed with your maiden name or monogram are ideal for sending words of thanks for shower gifts.

